

The World is in my hands!

Application for essay competition

Essays should tackle the issue of global warming on our islands, illustrating what each one of us can do, in his or her own little way, to alleviate the menace of climate change and rising pollution in Malta and abroad. Students of all nationalities may participate in this competition. Closing date for all entries is 15 April, 2007. The categories: the first is for essays of up to 400 words written by students aged 12 to 13; the second for essays of up to 600 words written by students aged 14; and the third for essays of up to 800 words written by students aged 15 to 16.

Essays will be awarded for innovative ideas, originality and language proficiency. On the other hand essays which plagiarise from other sources will be penalised. Each of the three winning essays will be awarded a solar heater which is kindly donated by MB SOLCO, and the company will install the solar heater in a location of the winner's choice.

Name & Surname

Address of School:

Email:

Age:

School:

Tutor

Name & Surname:

Subject:

Signature:

Tick Category applicable:

12 to 13

14

15 to 16

Attach filled application form to your essay and post to:

The World is in My hands competition, MediaToday, Vjal ir-Rihan, San Gwann SGN 07